

Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice

Graceland University seeks an Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice on the Lamoni, Iowa, campus, beginning August 2021. The successful applicant will help lead the Criminal Justice curriculum and will work closely with faculty in Sociology. The 4/4 teaching load includes core Criminal Justice courses and courses based on the candidate's secondary interests that can appeal to both majors and non-majors.

The successful candidate will have demonstrated teaching excellence. A commitment to undergraduate liberal arts teaching and service is required. Willingness to explore interdisciplinary connections desired. Master's degree required, Ph.D. preferred. Qualified applicants should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, and three letters of recommendation (at least one of which addresses the candidate's teaching) to: Graceland University, Human Resources, 1 University Place, Lamoni, IA 50140. Electronic submissions are encouraged; please send to personnel@graceland.edu. Review of materials begins March 1, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Graceland University is a private, liberal arts university, rurally located within an hour from Des Moines and two hours from Kansas City.

Equal Opportunity Employment has been, and will continue to be, a fundamental principle at Graceland University, where employment is based upon personal capabilities and qualifications without discrimination because of race, color, creed, gender identity, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability, sexual orientation or any other protected characteristic by law.