

TENURE TRACK ASSISTANT PROFESSOR POSITION – DEPARTMENT OF CRIMINOLOGY & CRIMINAL JUSTICE

Indiana University Southeast (IUS) Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning January 2024. The Criminology and Criminal Justice Program is seeking someone strongly aligned with our program's mission and goals emphasizing critical criminology and social justice. While the area of specialization is open, candidates should be capable of teaching departmental core classes on a rotation. Core classes include Introduction to Criminal Justice, Theories of Crime and Deviance, Research Methods, and our capstone Senior Seminar.

Responsibilities: Tenure-track faculty who maintain an active research agenda teach a 3/3 course load. Faculty are expected to engage in service-related activities at the departmental, school, college, professional, and community levels; and actively engage in scholarly or creative activities.

Required Qualifications: The successful candidate will have earned a Ph.D. in Criminology, Criminal Justice, or closely related field. Applicants who are ABD and close to completion of their degree will be considered. Candidates with only a J.D. will not be considered. Preference will be given to individuals with teaching experience. Our program offers both traditional face-to-face and on-line classes; candidate must demonstrate the ability, and possess the Higher Learning Commission qualifications, to teach on-line.

Salary and Benefits: Salary and rank are commensurate with education and experience. Indiana University provides a comprehensive benefits program for full-time appointed employees. Coverage for core benefit plans, such as Basic Life Insurance and retirement, is entirely paid by the University. Indiana University also contributes a substantial amount to elective health care plan enrollment. For more information visit <https://www.ius.edu/human-resources/benefits/>

IUS also offers internal research and teaching grants to help faculty maintain active research agendas and improve their teaching abilities. For more information on these grants please visit <https://www.ius.edu/academic-affairs/research/internal-grant-information.php>

Application: Please submit a (1) cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) a statement of teaching philosophy, (4) a diversity statement, and (5) three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin August 18th and continue until the position is filled. Please direct any questions about this position to the search committee chair:
